AN ACT

TO AMEND SECTION 164 OF THE CIVIL CODE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Puerto Rico:

Section 1.—Section 164 of the Civil Code of Puerto Rico is hereby amended as follows:

"Section 164.—The causes for divorce are as follows:
"1. Adultery on the part of either of the parties to the marriage.
"2. Conviction of one of the parties to the marriage of a felony, which may involve the loss of civil rights.
"3. Habitual drunkenness or the continued and excessive use of opium, morphine, or any other narcotic.
"4. Cruel treatment or grave injury.
"5. The abandonment of the wife by the husband, or of the husband by the wife, for a longer period of time than one year.
"6. The absolute, perpetual and incurable impotency occurred after marriage.
"7. The attempt of the husband or wife to corrupt their sons or to prostitute their daughters, and connivance in their corruption or prostitution.
"8. The proposal of the husband to prostitute his wife.
"9. The separation of both spouses for an uninterrupted period of time of more than seven (7) years; Provided, That when the sep-oration for the said period of more than seven (7) years is satisfactorily proved, the woman, when the judgment is rendered, shall always be considered as the innocent spouse, with all the rights inherent in such condition following divorce."

Section 2.—All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 3.—This Act shall take effect ninety days after its approval.

Approved, May 9, 1933.
